

Ollie's Bathtime Wiggly Bags

The bathtime wiggly bags are a waterproof bag made of ripstop fabric designed to hold the lines for your child's hickman or accessed port out of the water so they can enjoy bath time. If you have any queries or need another bag please email bathtimewigglybags@gmail.com or contact me via the Facebook group Ollie's bathtime wiggly bags. These bags were designed by myself and my aunt when Ollie was having treatment as he suddenly went from loving bath time to hating it. With these bags he could relax again and enjoy bath time.

This charity has been set up in his memory. They are made and sent by a team of friends and family with love and we hope it helps make bath time more fun for you.

The bag was designed to be worn on the back and the wiggly to go under the arm and into the bag. The poppers then hold the wiggly in the bag upside down. As modelled by Ollie here:

The bag sits over the shoulder blade of the side the wiggly is on. Sometimes if the hickman or port has been placed more centrally on the chest the lines won't be long enough to stretch behind the back. In this case you can use the bag on the front (still attach it using the strap in a satchel like over the shoulder as that keeps it in place better). If the bag is on the front, position it as high as possible so that water doesn't get in when they lean forward.

You have been sent a bag with a popper sewn onto the upper corner of the bag and the other side to the popper clipped into it so that once you have decided on the right length of strap needed for your child, you can sew on the popper to the strap at the length that suits best.

SOME SAFETY BITS

It is important to position the bag as high as possible so that water doesn't enter the bag and the ends of the line don't get wet. If they get wet then clean the ends with the disinfectant wipe from your line care kit and let them air dry.

After bath time, hang the bag up so that it can properly dry. If you notice any mould or damage to the bag then stop using it and ask us for another one.

Sorry you have to use these at all but I hope this bag makes your life a little easier.

Kind Regards,

Terri Lovis
