

The Stay Home Superheroes

Once upon a time there was a big, busy world. In this big, busy world there lived a boy called William. William loved going to school to play with his friends, going to the park with his mum and going swimming with his dad.

But one day, everything started to change. William heard on the news that there was a Big Problem. This problem was so big that it started to spread over the whole world. All the grownups were talking about it. All the children were talking about it. In fact, every single person in the whole world was talking about it. Everyone started to feel worried and scared about the Big Problem.

Soon the Big Problem caused some big changes. At first Mummy stopped going to work, then Daddy stopped taking him swimming, then he found out that school was cancelled and day by day the big, busy world he lived in got quieter and quieter and quieter.

William was confused. He felt scared too. He had so many Questions. What was going on? Would it be okay? How could they stop the Big Problem?

He went to ask his Mummy all of his big questions. "It's okay to be scared and worried, lots of other children feel that way, even adults feel scared too sometimes" she told him, giving him a BIG hug.

"But all of the very smartest, cleverest people in the whole world are working hard to fix the Big Problem right now" she explained.

This made him feel a little bit better. Surely the cleverest people in the world could find a way to fix it! But it was such a Big Problem, he was still scared. He had to do something.

Mummy explained that there were lots and lots of special helpers working hard to save the world and stop the problem.

"Just like superheroes?" said William.

"Just like superheroes!" said Mummy, smiling.

William wanted to be a Superhero too. This was his chance! Super William to the rescue! He jumped up, ready to run outside and join all the other superheroes to fight off the Big Problem and save the world, but his mum stopped him and locked the door.

"HEY! How can I help fight the Big Problem if I'm stuck inside?" he asked.

"Well, we DO need you to help. Everyone is going to have to help to solve this Big Problem. And YOU are going to have a very special job indeed. You are going to become a Stay Home Superhero!" mum said.

William had never heard of THAT kind of superhero before. Mummy told him that Stay Home Superheroes could help fight off the Big Problem by using their Stay Home Superpowers. But what were they? He tried so hard, but he didn't have super strength, or super speed either. In fact, he was exactly the same as before.

"The Big Problem can't be solved with super strength, or super speed. The Big Problem will only stop growing if all the new Superheroes use their Stay Home Superpower to stay at home. In fact, if all the new Stay Home Superheroes work together the Big Problem will get smaller, and smaller, and smaller every single day, until it goes away!" mummy explained.

"But staying home is a boring superpower!" said William in a grump.

"Boring? No way! You have the superpower to make this fun! And staying home is how YOU can help to save the whole wide world - there's nothing more powerful than that!

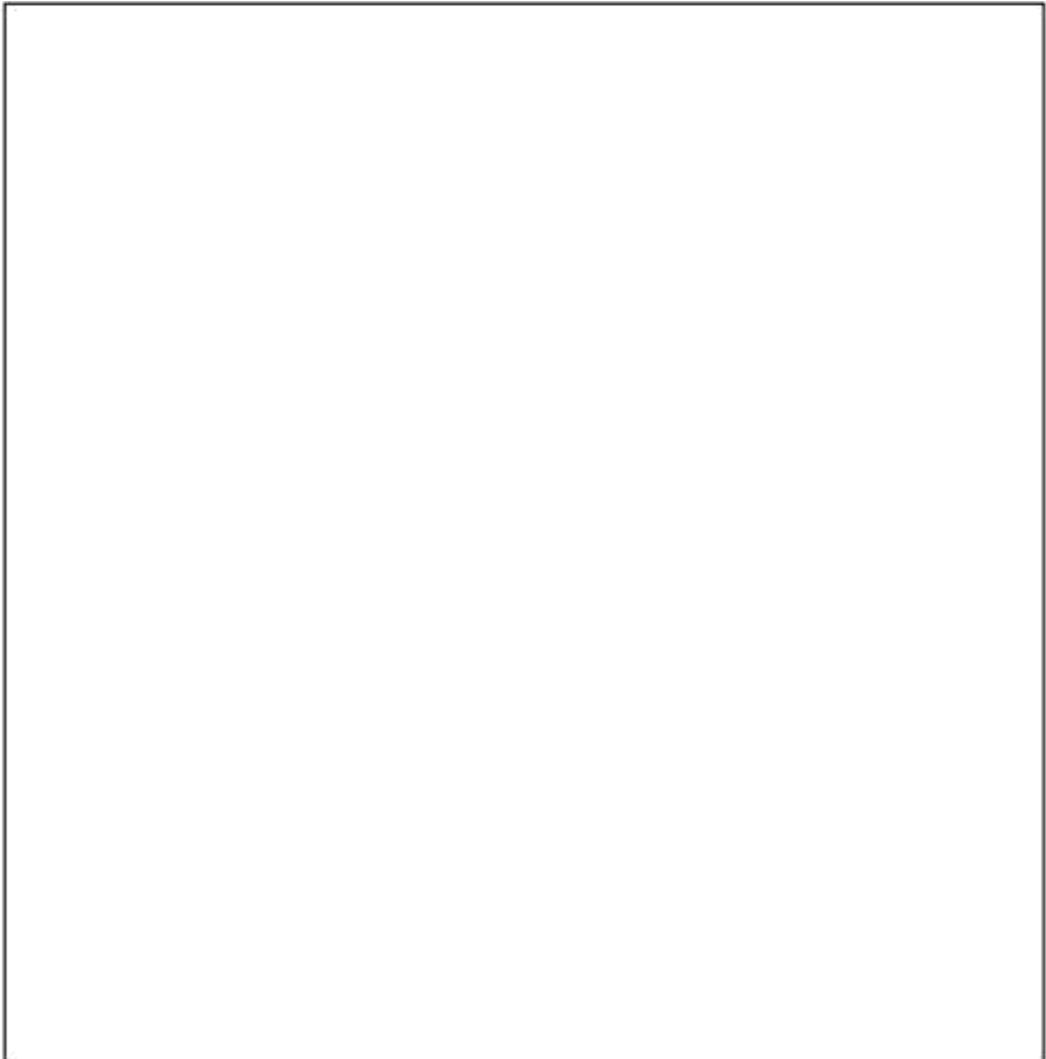

Just staying home and having fun could save the whole wide world! And he would be a real life superhero! William started to feel excited. He started to feel powerful too! He couldn't wait to tell all his friends that they could turn into Stay Home Superheroes just like him!

William got to work quickly, using his Superpower creativity to think of all the fun things he could do at home. He made a long list with his family: pillow forts and cooking and games and dancing and puppet shows and singing and movies and MORE! Even better, William found out he could still play in the garden and go outside too, as long as he stayed away from all the superheroes who lived in different houses. They could wave to each other and sink, because they all knew what a special job they were doing

William did miss playing with his friends and going swimming and to the park. But then he remembered how important his new Superhero job was. He was helping to save the whole world and that made him feel so good inside. He was very proud of himself. Then he fired up his superpowers ready to find something fun to do. William the stay home Superhero and all his superhero friends worked hard together to help save the world, without leaving their homes. And now you know, you can be a superhero too!

Can you draw a picture of you with your Stay home Superhero outfit?

Draw 4 activities that you can do to help save the world from home:
